1934

As our nation emerges from the black pall of a world depression, its people probably realize more clearly than at any period since the Civil War what our government, with its supreme power and high hope for the future of its citizens, really means to them both in theory and in practice.

Not unlike this great organism, though on a smaller scale, is a modern high school criss-crossed with social currents so imperious in their pressure as to create vexing problems of curriculum and administration. The weight of the depression has tangibly been eased in our local high school by the restoration in 1933-34 of the nine months' school term, the new setup in city school affairs, and by revival of employment in Anderson industries.

It is the purpose of this Annual to weld together in one metaphor, or allegory, the similarity of the greater organism to the lesser—the resemblances are striking.

Dedication

Upon graduating from this institution we, realizing our responsibilities in their larger sense for perhaps the first time, contemplate critically this period of our educational development and especially the year we spent as Seniors.

As we view the events of the past year, we can not help noticing the unfailing guidance and leadership of one man.

It seems very fitting to dedicate this yearbook, whose theme is based on the "New Deal" in our government, to one who has brought this same theme not only into the high school but the entire school system.

Therefore, it is with great pleasure that we, the members of the class of nineteen-hundred and thirty-four, dedicate this Indian to that man, Mr. Arthur Campbell, and trust that his hand may remain the guiding one and his leadership continue as an inspiration to future members of this institution.

The 1934 graduating class in presenting this Annual to the student Anderson High School expresses hope that in future years it may be remembered as a product of that revolutionary period in our nation's history, "The New Deal."

The theory of "rugged individualism," upon which former regimes have been founded has been discarded, and a "New Deal" set-up has been instituted in our federal, state, local and even school governments. Because of the major role that it played in our academic life this school year an attempt was made to carry the idea of the "New Deal" in this most patriotic of yearbooks. This has been accomplished by the use of artistic and literary methods.

Directly above, you observe the symbolic American eagle spreading its wings protectively about the student.

s of the American school children, whom we discern the future leaders and citizens of our nation. Under his mighty aegis the public schools will conserve the essence of our democratic institutions.

The yearbook itself has been divided into three major sections, headed by the appropriate titles of "Legislation" (or School Board and Faculty);
"Citizenry" (or Student Body); and
"Public Opinion" (or Organizations); which, in turn have been redivided into several sub-sections. The same patriotic flavor has been imparted to all the writeups throughout in keeping with the art motif.

If any enjoyment is derived from the book's contents of any fond memories of the past year's activities recalled the Annual staff will have been amply compensated for its efforts.

Senators

WHILE it is true that a year book should deal chiefly with the endeavors and accomplishments of the student "body politic", yet oftentimes too much space is apt to be devoted to their activities, thoughtlessly overlooking those with the "legislative" assistance and guidance of whom our school has been made possible. Thus let us pause and in this section give credit where credit is due—to those in whom are vested the legislative authority of this institution of learning—the School Board and Faculty.

Success can not be assured if wrong methods of training are employed. Thus by their untiring efforts they have attempted to insure ours by removing any obstructions which might lie in our pathway. Their aim has been to prepare us for life, to equip us with a foundation of knowledge, and to instill within us principles of conduct that are worthy.

Although we can not express it adequately in words, our appreciation for their services are sincere, and we hope that they will continue to serve in the future as they have in the past.

Board

Mr. Wade Free

Mr. Victor Riggs

Mr. Robert Critchfield

Mr. Wade Free, Sr., executive head of this body, while perhaps known to few students personally, is known by all of them for his active and enthusiastic interest in affairs of the student body. His has been the firm guiding hand in reshaping the policies of the reconstructed school setup in Anderson.

The genuine concern which Mr. Victor H. Riggs has exhibited in all matters pertaining to the well-being of the high school has not gone unnoticed. We consider him a well-chosen member of this "legislative" body.

Mr. Robert M. Critchfield has proved himself an invaluable asset to the board by his wise suggestions and capable assistance in solving its numerous administrative problems. We have been pleased to have him as a director of our school government.

Of course, no "New Deal" school-board would have been successful in its problem-solving without the aid of a member of the feminine sex. This lady was none other than Mrs. Arthur Beckman to whom we tender our thanks for her part in guiding the school's destiny.

Because of his active participation in civic affairs of the community, Mr. Frederick L. Ray, was well qualified for this position of "legislator". He should be complimented for the earnestness which he displayed in fulfilling his duties.

Mr. Stoler

To Mr. Fred W. Stoler, our "New Deal" principal, we extend our sincerest appreciation for the competent manner in which he has performed the duties of his office.

Our restoration to the position of high standing among other high schools of the state may be traced largely to his efficient direction, and to the many wise improvements in the educational methods employed in the high school for which he has been responsible.

His friendliness and justice in all contacts with the student body, combined with his qualities of leadership have made him one of the most capable incumbents of this highly important office.

CITIZRY

Conservatives

NEW SUPREME COURT

THIS SECTION is dedicated to that group which constitutes the largest division of our academic organization—the student body or “citizenry” of A.H.S. The contents of the following pages will reveal to you that this co-called “citizenry”, being of four political complexions, naturally display four different views upon all issues; namely “radical”, “liberal”, “progressive”, and “conservative”. However, these groups are identified by the more familiar titles of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors.

In discussions of the business situation a condition, resulting from our economic system, to which there is frequent reference is “the business cycle”, composed of five evolutionary stages. The principle of this cycle is applicable to the high school, where a corresponding condition exists, which we may term “the high school cycle”. Unlike “the business cycle” this cycle is composed of only four stages; namely: “Radicalism”, “Liberalism”, “Progressivism”, and “Conservatism”. Just as in the past it has seemed inevitable that business pass through these various stages, so does a high school class experience a similar evolution during its sojourn here.

All of the individuals, whose likenesses adorn the succeeding pages, will soon assume their obligations as citizens of a much larger order of society than that of the high school.

Seniors

Senior Class (The Conservatives)

All hail to the leaders of the school! We as a class have experienced the four stages of high school life—gross ridicule, petty humiliation, dawning progressiveness and now ultra-sophistication and conservatism. At last, because of more mature intelligence and greater wisdom, we have attained the honored and exalted position which we now hold—a position with a judicial function. Our own training in the school of experience has qualified us for this duty of deciding what constitutes the proper school attitude and conduct.

Nor are the Seniors lacking in the dignity befitting members of the Judiciary. To prove this fact one has only to observe our chief justices: Everett Gaunt, Edgar Liptrap, Virginia Hulse, and James Ritter. It is also quite obvious in our sponsors: Mr. J. J. Bailey and Miss Ruth B. Hill.

Yes, we too, not unlike those who have preceded us, have suffered from that well-known malady characteristic of all senior classes—inflation of the Ego. Moreover, if you are very observing you will notice that our more rapidly maturing Juniors are already displaying symptoms of this dread disease.

IN MEMORIAM

James Dunham

As the 1934 Senior Class is graduated, missing from its ranks will be one whose loyalty and cooperation were known and appreciated—whose passing is mourned by his fellow classmates.

Junior Class (The Progressives)

The Juniors in their attempt to keep up with the New Deal have chosen to be called Progressives.

Early last fall this group of young dignitaries met on election day and chose as their party leader John Nooney. As his running mates the electors chose Jean Bujarsky as Vice-President along with Warren Polhemus and Lillian Ritter as party Treasurer and Secretary respectively.

The class was rather quiet with regards to public activities until the beginning of the second term; but when they finally gave their inaugural ball celebrating our reinstatement in the I. H. S. A. A. they won the plaudits of the "country". Shortly after their dance they took over the candy stands from the Conservatives (Seniors) and satisfied the hunger and thirst of the basketball electorate at the Regional Tourney.

And then—the Junior-Senior Prom—the most highly anticipated social event of an upper-classman's life! In planning their party for the Seniors, the Juniors were greatly aided and abetted by their sponsors, Attorney-General Hupp's legal knowledge and Mr. Sanders' ability in organization bulwarking them at every turn.

All in all we hope the whole of the Progressive Party will live up to their name and go on to the coveted rank of Seniors, becoming Conservatives but not reactionaries.

Sophomore Class (The Liberals)

Although it is most often presumed that these second year students are the least out-spoken and the most silent, their enthusiasm in the school's rousing pep sessions make us doubt it. After their first year of experience, however, they find that "Silence is Golden" except in such cases as the above mentioned.

After school was well organized again these voters elected their class officers—Charles Clark, the blond track-man, was made president. David Goss, that learned savant, became Vice-President. The ex-Treasurer, Mavis Quear, was chosen Secretary. Glen Shields now takes care of the finances. It also needs to be said that without the efficient supervising of the sponsors, Mr. Shirey and Mrs. Pflasterer, the supervised would still stagger at the great wonders of our Alma Mater. Mr. Shirey declares that he is honored to have been chosen as sponsor after the departure of Mr. Ashley.

What does the future hold for these industrious youths? What is hidden within the dark and yet uncovered realms of the Sophomores is yet to be revealed, but we are almost certain of its future eminence in the affairs of our government.

Freshman Class (The Radicals)

Every September the "population" of A.H.S. is increased by the addition of certain timid little souls.

This year, however, we were stormed by a rabid "party" of "radicals," who came in with the idea of revolutionizing the prevalent methods of the high school. Before their entrance to this academic institution they had enjoyed many privileges. When they became full-fledged high school students it must have been quite a blow to their pride to find that their ideas were completely ignored.

These "forgotten men" chose for their leaders Richard Pines, president; Jack Vanneman, vice-president; Irving Glazer, secretary; and Gerald Buxton, treasurer, who, however, did not have much opportunity to exercise their powers. To direct their four year "campaign" they chose Miss Hudson and Mr. Huntsinger.

Allay all fears which you may entertain concerning the future of these freshmen because they will have lost their "radical tendencies" when they finally emerge as seniors and will have adopted more conservative views in all issues.

New Freshmen (Radicalism Rampant!)

Cast your orbs upon the new, 1934, streamlined, knee-actioned models of those darting, ubiquitous bipeds—The New Freshmen. As usual the new models are of the conventional Freshmen hue—green, verdant—every vestige of which, however, with the fleet passage of time, has disappeared when they have become Seniors.

Committees

OF ALMOST equal importance to the program of the curriculum in the education of the high school student is that phase primarily adapted to developing his powers of self-expression—extra-curricular activities.

The benefits derived from participation in the activities of the various student organizations are multitudinous. As a result of the closer contact with fellow students many new and permanent friendships are acquired; personalities are developed; excellent opportunities for assertions of leadership are provided; valuable training in social cooperation is given; and additional knowledge of classroom subjects is supplied.

It is inevitable that those individuals who have assumed leadership in scholastic activities will take their places as leaders in their chosen fields of endeavor after graduation.

Anderson High School has always stressed the importance of and has encouraged student contributions to its programs of entertainment; thus during the school year of 1933-34 many interesting and instructive programs were prepared and presented by the "legislative committees" or clubs. Therefore, in order to convey our appreciation to those groups, who have endeavored to relieve to some extent the monotony of academic routine, this third and final section of the yearbook has been devoted to their activities.

Print Shop Boys (Our Government Printing Office)

Have you ever been around the high school print shop on Thursday while the X-Ray was being printed or in the spring when Mr. Barner and "all the lads" were rushed to get the year book out? If you haven't, you'll never appreciate the quietude of a freshman study-hall.

But taking everything into consideration and seeing that a little noise is necessary, due to the heavy machinery, the school, as a whole, appreciates the work of these fellows. Mr. Barner has fifty-three enrolled in all his printing classes and much expense is saved the school by this group of fellows, for they print all of the little blue and white slips you carry around and all the literature and record blanks used by the principal's and superintendent's office. This set-up is literally our Government Printing Office.

Most of the "Indian" was produced by the following boys: Harold Shuster and Jack Hummer, linotype; Billy James, ad composition; Harold Taylor and Tom Hughel, presswork.

Annual Staff (The Cabinet)

These individuals, dear reader, constitute the Annual Staff, or, in other words, those persons at whom, either individually or as a group, all bouquets, brickbats, or collapsible objects of a malodorous nature must be directed if this book—"The Anderson Indian", in patriotic garb—does not meet with your approval.

Because their efforts were concentrated upon editing a yearbook, the staff's primary purpose, therefore, was to present you with a complete record of the school year, 1933-34's, events, which you could file away among the souvenirs of your happiest of all days—your madcap, carefree, high school days. In future years when you have assumed your full responsibilities as men, women, and citizens, I am sure that it will be a tremendous aid in recalling this period of irresponsibility through which you are now passing.

If the Annual does in any way measure up to the standard of "bigger and better" for the students of Anderson High School, the Staff must share its laurels with the faculty sponsors of this project.

Honorary Society (The Brain Trusters)

Ouch! Oh, yes,—we forgot to tell you to shade your eyes while looking at this picture. The shining countenances and sunny, beaming smiles all add to the brightness of this galaxy of master-minds. And really, the members of the “brain trust” are bright as they have proved so well, for, to be eligible to a seat in this intellectual group, the student must meet certain scholastic standards.

In the first meeting of the club last fall, the members elected the following officers: for president, Mary Edith Miner; vice-president, Mary Elizabeth Leach; treasurer, Robert Williamson; and secretary, Kathryn Starr. Much credit goes to this fine group of officers for the success of the club in the year now drawing to a close; and with it, a vote of thanks to the sponsors, Mrs. Gear and Mr. Shirey, for their fine cooperation with the club.

The club has been rather quiet to public appearance, but actually aren't the studious members of any place-of-learning more or less quiet? Perhaps, in years to come, some of our members will be sought from their places in Harvard or Columbia to aid in the untangling of difficult economic problems, or one of our fairer members be called from her pen to serve in the President's official family. Time, alone, can only tell.

Sodalitas Latina
(Department of Archaeology)

The purpose of the Sodalitas Latina is to stimulate detailed interest in Roman people, customs, and literature, which classroom time cannot afford. A close observation of the picture reveals that the dignity characteristic and worthy of toga-clad senators of ancient Rome is not absent in this group.

The French Club
(The Language of Modern Diplomacy)

Le Cercle Francais, our Modern French club, is an organization whose purpose is to create an interest in the language of modern diplomacy—French. Of course, if you cannot speak or understand French very well, it is not advisable to belong, as French is spoken throughout the duration of the meetings.

History Club
(Archives of the Republic)

The archives of the republic have been in quiet but effective custody this year. The History Club, meeting on alternate Tuesdays, has been studying the history of Indiana. Each member contributed something to the successive discussions of state characteristics and development. Useful information concerning Hoosierdom was thus acquired.

X-Ray Staff
("Pitiless Publicity")

These "newshawks" (with apologies to "Time" magazine) were responsible for the circulation of "propaganda" among the "citizenry" of A.H.S. by means of that weekly journalistic publication supreme, the X-Ray. Especially were they adept in furnishing news of the latest scandal and "crushes".

Senate

(Nursery of Parliamentarianism)

Having solved successfully their weighty problems, the Senior members of our "legisletive assembly" have passed beyond the forum of our school library, hoping the younger members will carry on the club through another year of discussion of present world, national, and local civic problems.

The Senators have enjoyed adding another year to their records, this season bringing to a close the twenty-seventh year of their history of public assembly.

Early in January there was a heated reorganization of the society and after the smoke cleared, it was made known that Richard Birdwell has been elected president; Clifford Hardwick, vice-president; Floyd Clayton, secretary; Charles Clark, treasurer; and Carol Fishback, reading clerk. Miss Barbara Jewett was selected as sponsor and advisor to the club.

The club was very active throughout the year from a social standpoint—a skating party, a Hallowe'en frolic, and a novel Collegiate party having been given.

The Senate has, for many years, been one of the distinguished clubs of our school and we hope it will continue as such.

Science-Math Club (Division of Scientific Research)

The accompanying photograph looks like a scientists' convention with an insprinkling of mathematicians, does it not? A closer inspection reveals that it is a section of our Brain Trust, the Science-Math Club.

Early in May, 1933, the club elected officers to guide their research for the ensuing year: Gilbert Hutton, Monsieur le President; Margaret Hosek, Mademoiselle la Vice-President; Paul Byrum, in charge of the exchequer; and Jean Bujarsky as scribe and official keeper of the Great Seal.

The youthful scientists and mathematicians, who kept their "country" informed on the latest progress in things material and analytic, undertook two ambitious projects which brought them glory and renown. They were two spectacles: in 1933 a Pageant of Transportation, demonstrating the evolution of that utility; and in 1934 a Pageant of Communication, demonstrating the gradual development of modes of transmitting thought across the great open spaces.

The natural science section of the Brain Trust greatly appreciate the advisory directing of Mr. Horton and Mr. Stewart.

Perhaps the governing body of our school will call in one of our masterminds to aid in the solving of an important problem or perhaps will run across a second Einstein. One can never tell.

The Girl Reserves (Division of Red Cross)

The young enthusiasts in this picture have made a name for themselves as one of the outstanding clubs in our school.

This year these charming damsels at their annual election chose as their party leaders: President, Jean Helvie; Vice-President, Roberta Epply; Secretary of State, Clara Litten; Secretary of Treasury, Edith Behrens. These officers were assisted by an efficient cabinet and by the advisors, the Misses Thumma, Jewett, Higman, and P'Simer.

In their activities of this year have been included things from the realm of sewing for the Red Cross to sponsoring official balls. In their meetings they have been addressed by well-known speakers and entertained by a number of interesting performers. "The Big Sister party", "The Hanging of the Greens", and the "Snow-Ball" were included in the entertainments of the holiday season. After this the High School G-R's participated in a circus held at the Y.W. They also had hikes and skating parties. Plans are being made for another dance. Indeed they have not been idle this year.

Garland Hudson

Hi-Y

(Dept. of Health, Temperance, and Public Morals)

Members of the Hi-Y Club, defenders of all that pertains to health, temperance, and morals, met last spring in the "federal building" and elected for 1933-34: Roland Ehle, president, who, during the summer, moved to California; Gilbert Hutton, then vice-president, but now president by virtue of the act of succession; Jack Bailey, secretary; Paul Bransford, treasurer; and Albert Uremovitch, sergeant-at-arms. To succeed President Hutton in the second office, Catlin Whitehead was chosen.

During the year this group of our representatives added many new names to their roster, the initiates giving evidence of their inexperience by wearing green ribbons and sometimes walking backwards.

restoring old Anderson High School to the I.H.S.A.A.'s

The year was marked by the Club's assistance in honorable pension-list.

Many were the fine, vigorous programs enjoyed by the membership at their weekly Tuesday night meetings. At this time our body wishes to acknowledge its thanks to its sponsors Mr. Stoler, Mr. Sanders, and Mr. Bailey, for their untiring efforts in making the work of the club successful.

Girls' Booster Club (League of Women Voters)

When the "citizenry" of "alma mater" betook itself to "ye olde gym" for a pep session, these were the females whose voices were lifted above all others. In addition to this vocal accomplishment however, they were also noteworthy because they represented the most active girls' organization this year.

Boys' Boosters Club (The House Steering Committee)

As a steering committee for the events related to the welfare of life and citizenship within our four walls, the Boys' Booster Club has helped greatly.

With Bob Maley as president; Ora Jackson as vice-president; Bob Renner as treasurer; George Claypool as secretary; and Edgar Liptrap as sergeant-at-arms, the club sponsored a "clean-up" campaign, gave an auditorium program and aided in the collection of food for the needy at Christmas.

Nice work, boys, and keep on boosting.

Domestic Science (Department of Commissary)

To the male population of A. H. S. this picture should prove both interesting and enlightening, for it is decisive proof that there are still remaining some females to whom the humble art of home-making has appeal. They are also living testimony of that tried and true adage, "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach."

Debate Team (Exponents of Parliamentarianism)

Have you ever heard scrapes of heated argument emanating from our school library? If you have it was more than likely our aspiring politicians having a debate team practice.

The club had a very successful season, winning nine out of thirteen contests. They also sponsored a non-decision debate conference in January.

The team has done well this season and we'll be watching them next year.

Girls' Glee Club

(For Promoting Feminine Harmony)

"From harmony, from heavenly harmony," according to Dryden, "this universal frame began." And well may we believe this when on rare and infrequent occasions we poor mortals are privileged to hear the euphonious melodies produced by these maiden voices in exhibitions of their vocal talent at "citizenry assemblies".

Boys' Glee Club

(Close Harmony in the Capital)

One of the prime qualifications for smooth governmental functioning is "close harmony" between the various divisions. That this has existed, you need only to ask any one having a class in the basement the eighth period.

But, all kidding aside, the fellows have given the school a lot of good music this year.

Choral Club (Promoters of Harmony)

Occupants of the X-Ray room during the ninth period were well aware of the existence of this club, which met in the adjacent room. Perhaps, it should also be added, that a more favorable impression of its ability was gained after hearing it at auditorium programs, than at such close range.

To the Music Department should go special mention for their activity this past year. This department was probably responsible for more excellent entertainment programs than any other department in the school.

The Choral Club, which is composed of boys and girls, have to their credit: 1. The Charles Turner Concert; 2. The De Wolf Hopper Light Opera Company; 3. The Arthur Jordan A Capella Choir; 4. The Spring Concert, which, it is hinted, was presented for the purpose of displaying their newly purchased robes.

The Girls' Glee Club furnished music at the Teachers' Federation.

The Boys' Glee Club presented that hilarious comedy, "The Freshman."

Together, these two afore-mentioned clubs participated in the Annual Music Festival at Ball State Teachers College on May 7.

The Choral Club and the Girls' Glee Club in collaboration will be responsible for musical numbers at both the Baccalaureate and Commencement services.

But the most celebrated non-professional program of all was this year's operatic offering, "The Marriage of Nannette", in which all members of the music department participated.

May our government next year be even more successful in promoting the welfare of the fine arts.

Band

(Department of Army and Navy)

The members of the band really believe in blowing their own horns. But—stop to think of it—who else could blow their horns for them?

The band has worked hard this year and was always present for the home athletic contests.

No modern government is complete without its military or naval band.

Orchestra

(An Instrument of Patriotism)

Yes, we do have an orchestra. Do you remember the Armistice Day Program? Well, the orchestra, along with the band, furnished all the musical background for that great historical production.

This group of musicians do not get many opportunities to display their merit, but they are accomplishing many things under Mr. Rencenberger's leadership.

Hobbies Club

This, another of those clubs which were newly formed last fall, was organized for the purpose of describing and estimating the values of the members' various hobbies. These ranged from saving salt-cellars (Is that you, Pat?) to—shall we say—working on Diesel engines.

The honorable officers of this club were elected: Chief Hobbiest, Patrick Hurley; the guy that presides when Patty is absent, Sir Arthur Gilbert Hutton; the official scribe, Robert Thompson; caretaker of the cash, Esquire Charles Clark. Professor Herb Miller is overseer of this unusual group.

These discussions must have interested the members greatly 'cause—have you noticed, kids,—“Hobbies” is a chosen topic to discuss in other meetings. Although this club has been rather inactive for the last few months (it is not to be forgotten that when spring approaches young folks' fancies turn to other hobbies which are in no way connected with the club) a meeting was held recently in which officers were chosen and plans made for the coming year.

Daily Bible Reading Club

This new organization was begun last fall. The name was derived from the fact that each member agreed to read a chapter of the New Testament daily.

The officers were elected for the first semester as follows: President, Robert Lutton; Vice President, Howard Griner; Secretary-Treasurer, Theda B. Walls.

The first term was practically taken up with the problems of organization. However, the beginning chapters of the New Testament were studied. Each member was given a copy of the New Testament. To make a thorough survey of this part of the Bible and to interest high school students in some of the more serious things of life is the real purpose of the club.

The spring semester officers were elected. Ann Fox began as President; John Hall was made Vice President; and Elsie Guenther took over the duties of Secretary and Treasurer.

In addition to the regular New Testament study, heated debates and discussions were a part of the club program.

In a lighter vein the members indulged in parties and outdoor picnics.

This club is not only a local organization, but also a branch of an international organization.

Dramatic Club

This organization is composed of those adolescent theatrical aspirants, who first were required to prove their superior histrionic ability by means of a tryout for membership. Having successfully survived the rigid test, the above fortunates convened one wintry Tuesday evening and elected the following "candidates": Dudley Sadler, President (who, it must be added, enlivened all meetings by his notorious and ever-ready store of puns); Tom Hammond, Vice-president; Mary Edith Miner, Secretary; and Carl Brekken, Treasurer. That celebrated dramatic coach, Mr. Paul J. Pflasterer, again consented to lend his talent to this exclusive group by accepting its sponsorship.

When such a trivial matter as writing a club constitution had been disposed of, they devoted their attention to selecting a play for production worthy of their ability and requiring no adverse action by the National Board of Censorship. A one act farce, entitled "Luncheon for Six", was chosen, as also a stellar cast. After several weeks of strenuous rehearsals, the finished product was viewed in the High School Auditorium by the Parent-Teachers Association and won the plaudits of the multitude, thus inflating six more egos.

Class Play

Encircled with red on the Senior Class Calendar of Events are March 21 and 22, for on those two auspicious dates its dramatic production, "Where There's A Will", was presented before two successively "packed" (?) audiences.

The theme of the aforementioned play was the projected effort of a domineering woman (who had been forgotten) to make her niece (who had been handsomely remembered) break the will left by her opulent deceased uncle. The plot was discovered, however, all were reconciled and they lived "happily ever after".

The all-star cast of thirteen Seniors was as follows: The vituperative Mrs. Emerson—Mary Hoppes; her hen-pecked husband—LeRoy Smith; their sweet young daughter, Linda—Virginia Hulse; Linda's fiancé, Wallace Taylor—George Claypool; the dignified lawyer—Jack Braddock; the painfully truthful niece, Lorna—Jean Helvie; the encyclopaedia salesman, Ralph Macy—Thurman Rinker; Linda's two girl-friends, Jane Scott and Sylvia Terry—Jean Sines and Waneta Anderson; Wallace's two boy friends, Edmund Lewis and Gale Austin—Herman Bennett and George Sharp; and lastly, the colored maid of the Emersons', Lily White—Sally Jewett.

Aviation Club (Division of Aircraft)

Our division of aircraft, although practically a new one, like all others, has reached those altitudes of the higher knowledge of aircraft. And where could a better head mechanic (or sponsor) be found than that high-minded man and World War veteran, Mr. Hale?

Many out-of-town aviation officials have addressed the club at its meetings and have given the members first hand information on the various phases of aviation. One trip was taken to Indianapolis and club members were shown around the Municipal Airport. The flood lights and radio beacon were turned on and a mail plane from St. Louis landed and took off while members looked on.

"After the rumor of the mails being taken over by the Army and it was taken over, it was very difficult to get speakers from those companies flying the mail," says Mr. Hale.

The officers of this club are President, Elmo Barron; Secretary-Treasurer, Emma Jayne Griffith.

Col. Weir Cook, honorary President of the Aviation Club, addressed the entire school on one program, sponsored by this club.

If you are interested in the higher things of life, why not take up flying?

"A" Club (Defenders of the Faith)

Ana: Whats that? Yes, a salute! A presidential salute of 21 guns? Hardly that, but, nevertheless, a hearty salutation to our one and only "A" Club. And great, indeed, is the enthusiasm shown by the members of this club, all of whom are seasoned veterans of many hard fought battle on gridiron, basketball court, or cinder track; for, to be eligible for a position in this organization of "he-men", the aspiring candidate must prove his mettle in some sport and acquire the privilege of wearing the school letter.

During an early spring meeting, held in the club's secret chamber of the "war barracks", or better known to you as the gym, the membership elected officers for the year 1933-34. The names of the following fellows went down on the military records as leaders in charge of our national defense: General Bill O'Neil; Lt.-General Bob Reschar; and Major General Ike Parker.

The members were not satisfied with giving their best in their particular branch of athletics, but had to assist in our gala celebration of reinstatement to the state athletic association. This is one evidence of the willingness of these fellows to cooperate with the officials and give the best they have for their teams. May your club carry on and—"More Power To Your Elbows".

Mr. Chadd

Mr. Archie Chadd assumed the duties of Athletic Director of Anderson High School last fall. Considering the difficulties with which Mr. Chadd was faced, he executed his duties in a very satisfactory manner.

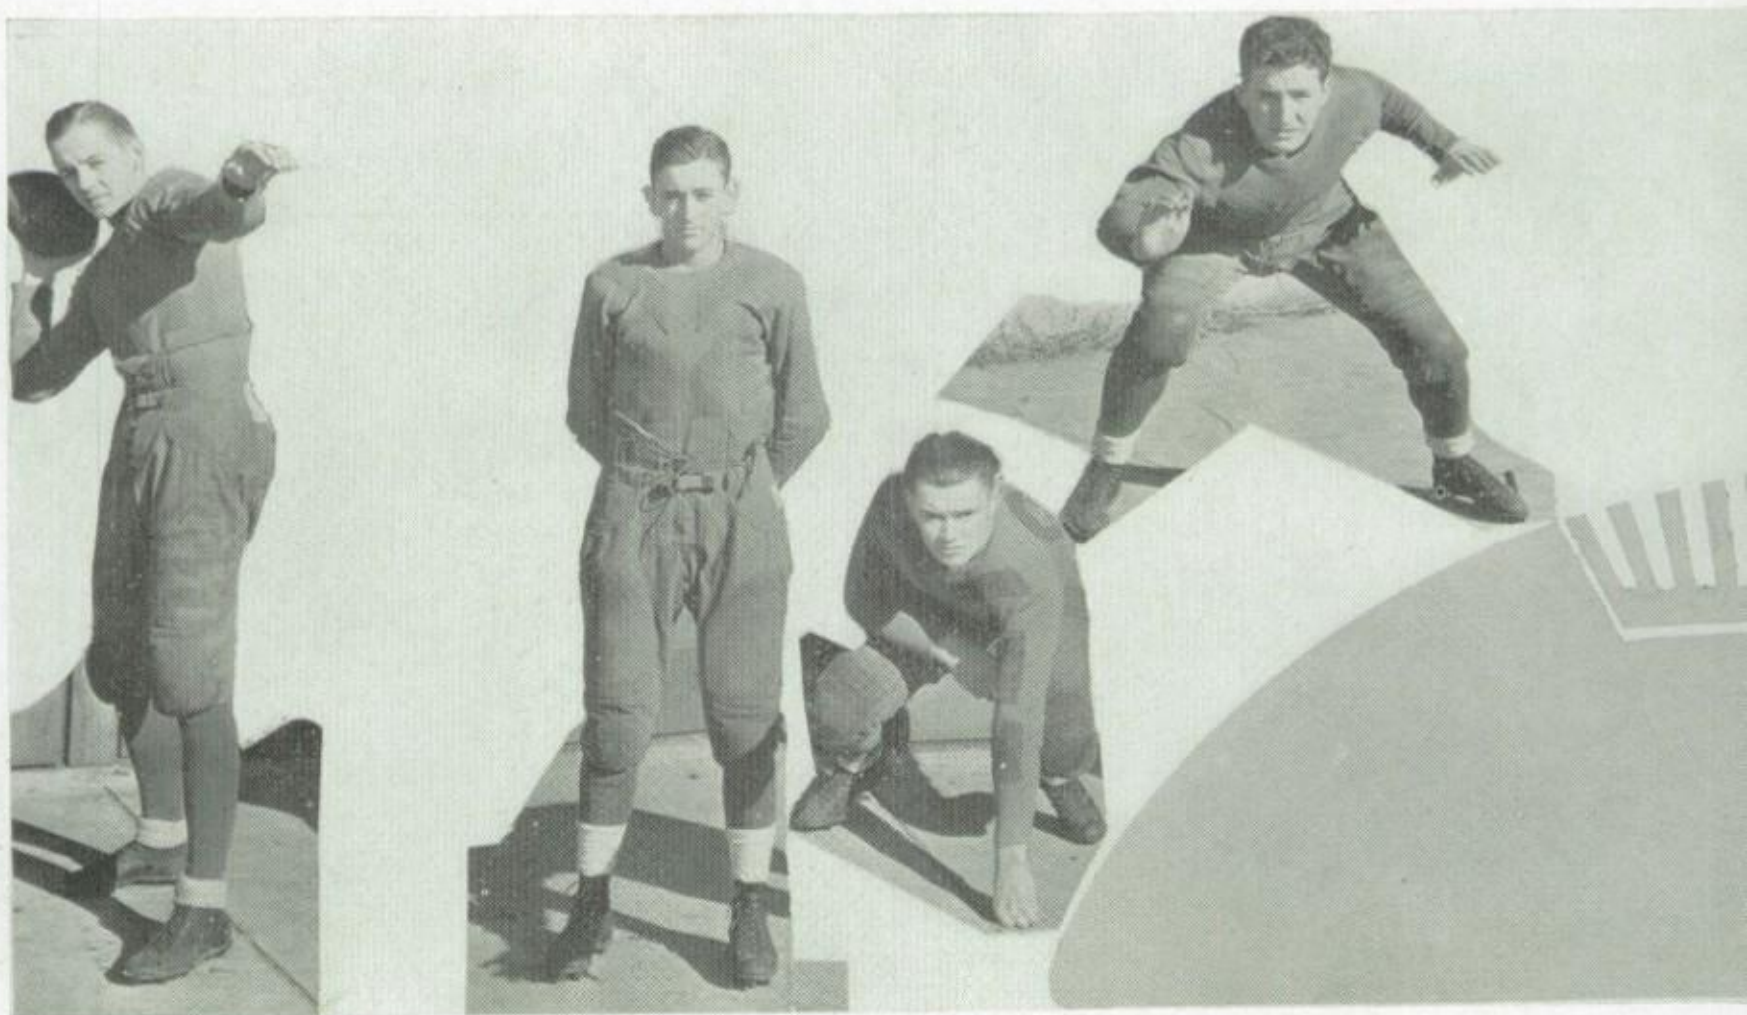

Before coming to Anderson, our Athletic Director, a native of Bainbridge, Indiana, attended Butler University. While at Butler he was a member of the varsity football, basketball and baseball teams. He captained the hardwood squad in his Senior year. He completed his course at Butler in 1929, earning both the A. B. and B. S. degrees. This was followed by two years of study at Columbia University.

After graduating from Butler, Mr. Chadd became the Freshman baseball coach and an assistant football and basketball coach at his Alma Mater.

In 1930 the former Butler athlete became athletic director of the Canton, Illinois, High School where he compiled high winning averages in baseball, football and basketball, taking the Canton team to the finals of the State Basketball tournament every year.

We wish Mr. Chadd every success and hope that some day he may pilot an Indian team to a State championship basketball victory.

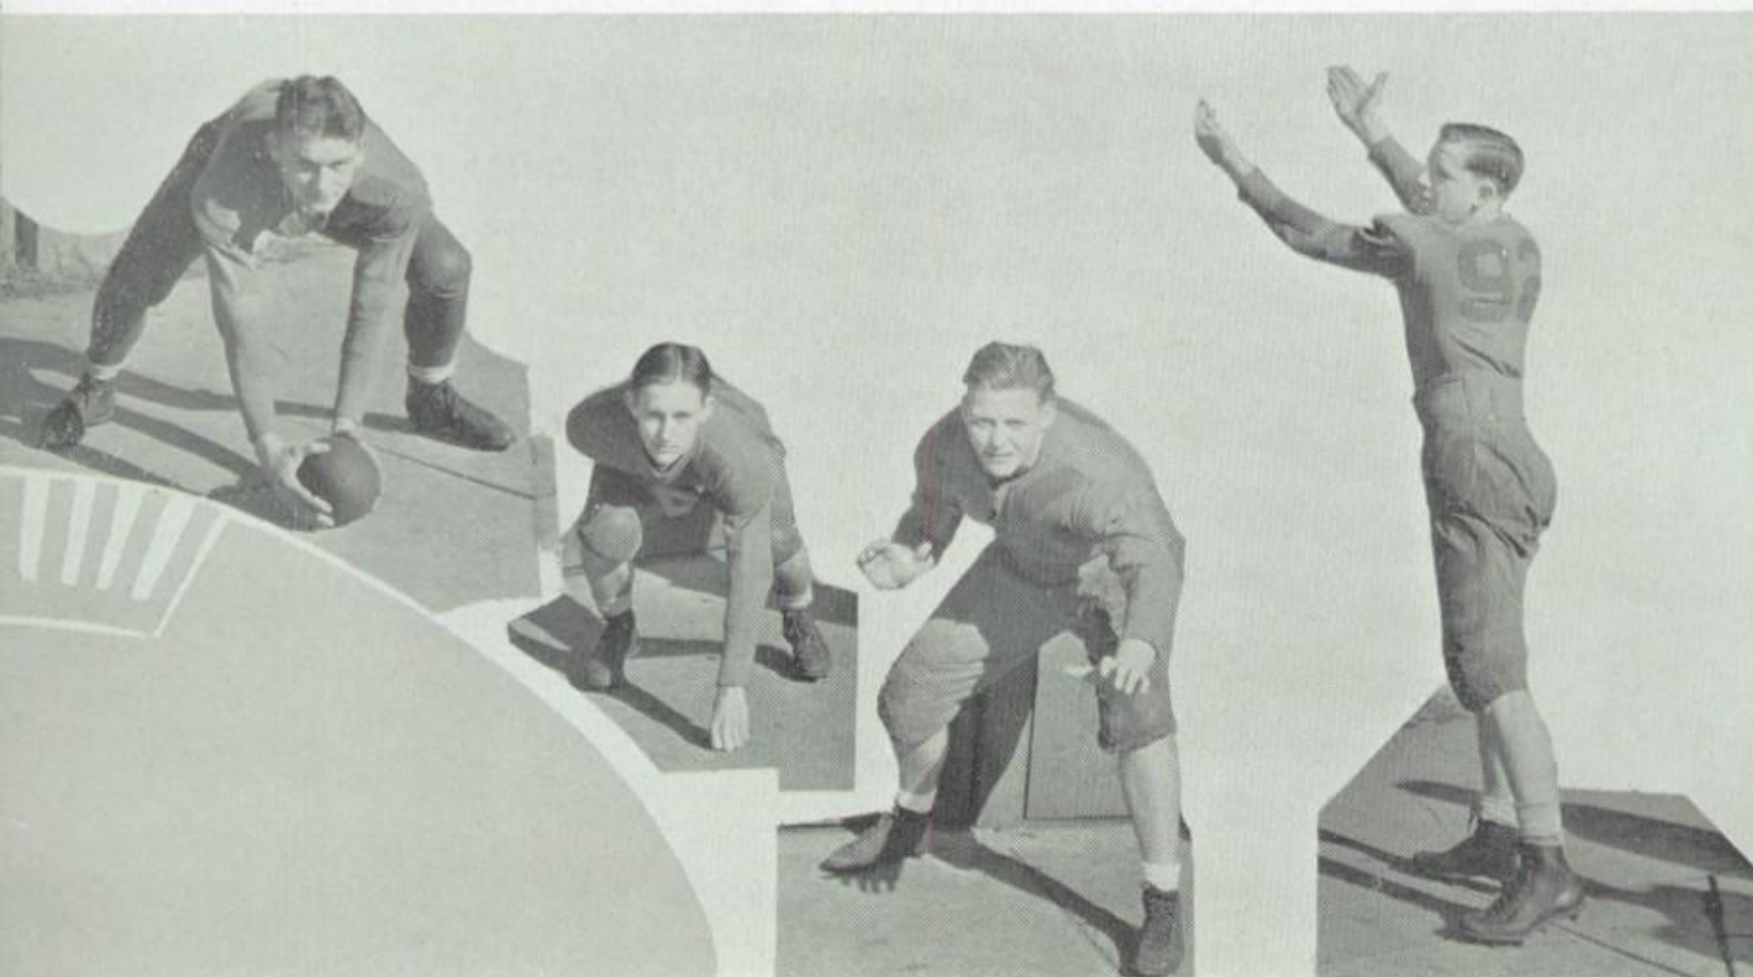

MALEY—Bill played the position of half back and was a very aggressive player. In addition to his blocking and fine defensive ability, he was a great punter, passer, and ball carrier. He has one more year to play for A.H.S.

GOINS—Roger is another one of our Sophomore players who fought hard for the Red and Green. His aggressiveness and alertness earned him a position at quarter back.

KAERICK—George held the regular guard position this season. His tackling and blocking were a great help to the team. We are sorry to see George graduate this year.

SHANKLIN—Norman played tackle this year to a good advantage for the squad. He has two more years to play and should prove to be a mainstay.

RUDOLPH—Chester played the position of center. His quickness and steady fighting were beneficial to the squad this year. He is a Senior.

ROLAND—Bill is only a Sophomore, but through fight and determination he held the regular guard position. His fighting spirit has helped the team through many difficulties.

RESCHER—Bob was one of the heaviest boys on the team and held the position of tackle. When he plunged into the line something usually gave away. This is Bob's last year on the team.

CROKE—John was a scrappy end who always fought for the good of the team. He is only a Junior and looks like a good prospect for the coming year.

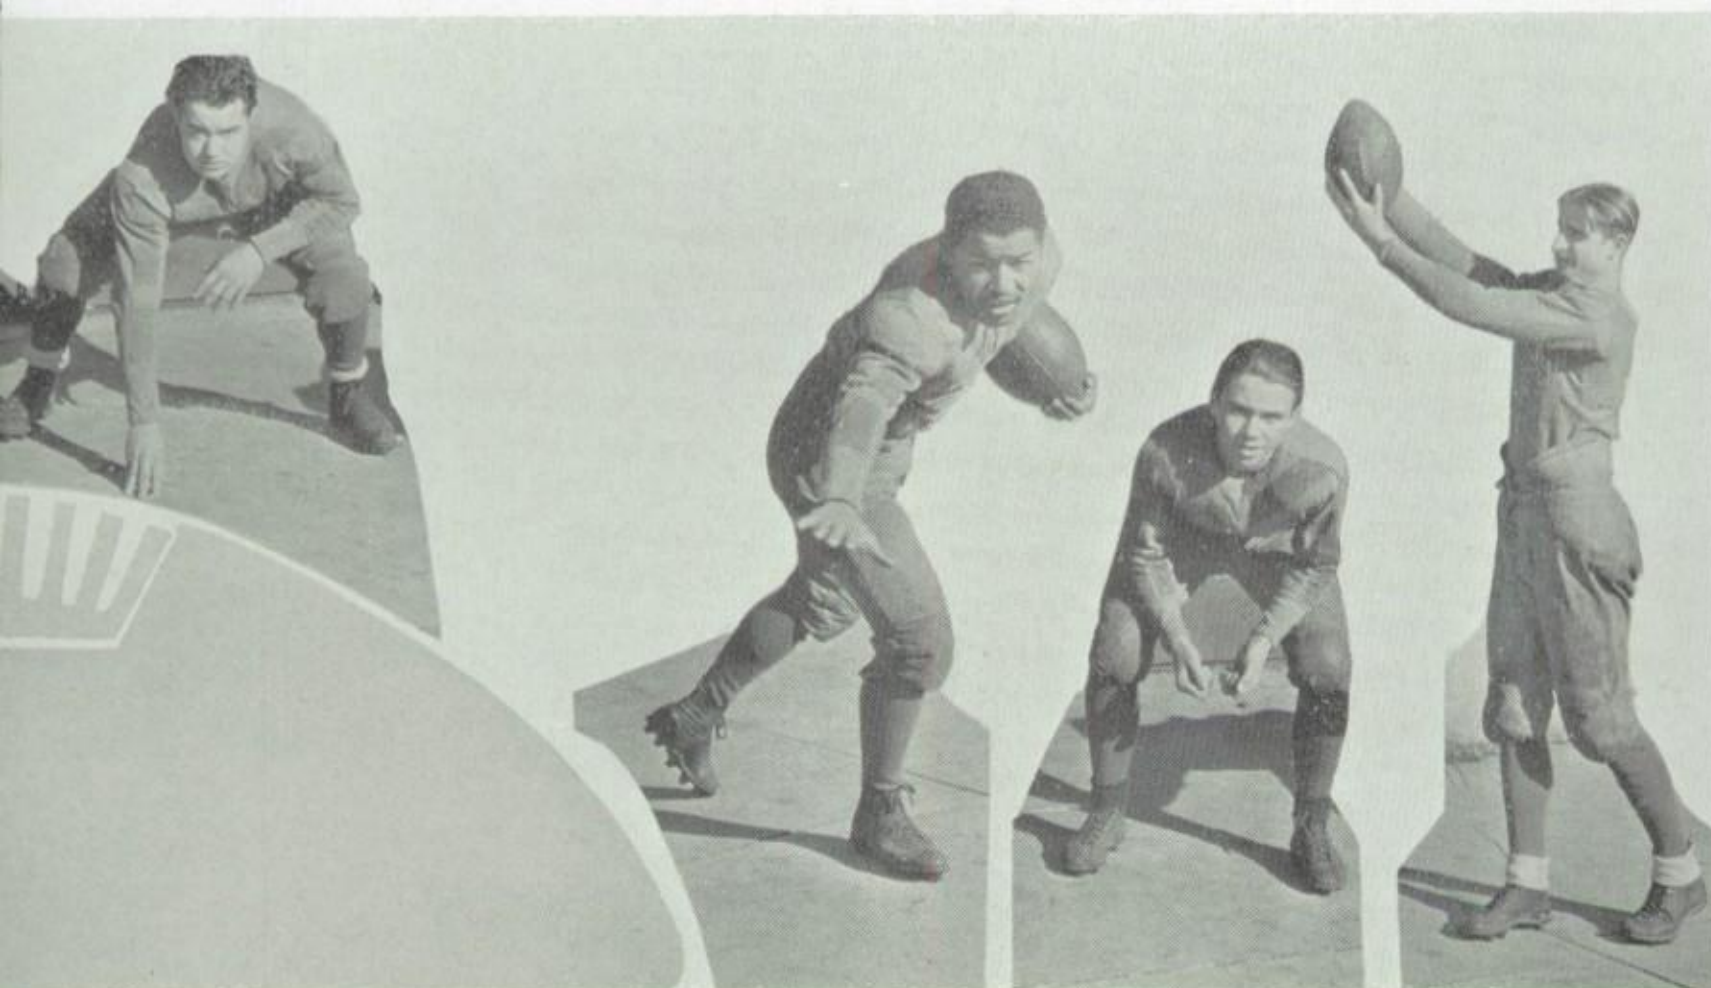

GILLESPIE—Hugh was a hard worker and a consistent player. He played the end position and helped make those end runs successful. He is only a Junior and should be a great aid to the team next year.

O'NEIL—Bill was a hard fighter and a shifty, fast running fullback. He has one more year to play and much will be expected from him next season.

COOPER—Kenneth played to a good advantage at center position. He hit hard and stopped many of our opponents' plays at the line of scrimmage. He is only a Junior.

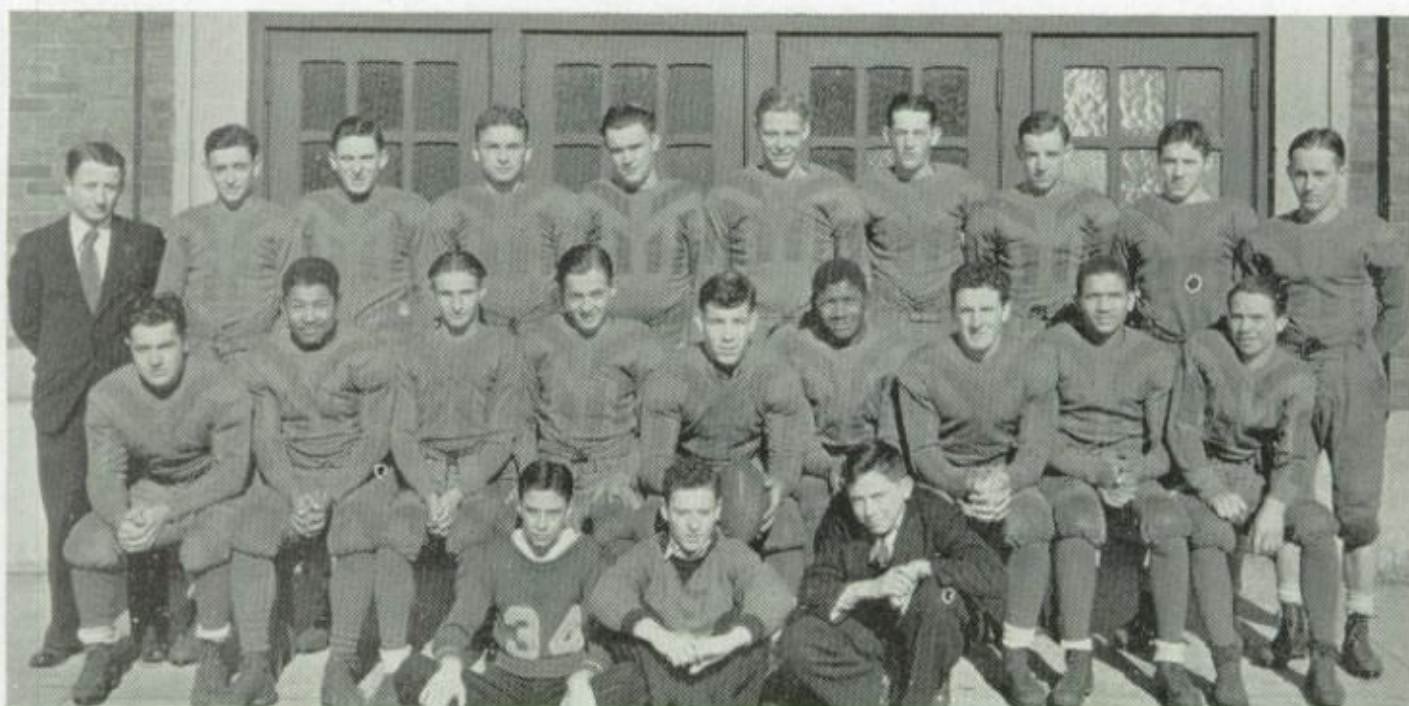

KING—Max fought hard and made it plenty tough for opposing teams. He played at tackle. Max has two more years, and with additional experience, should become a very good player.

PARKER—Ike was a fast and elusive ball carrier; he also excelled at backing up the line. His position at half back will be hard to fill, as he graduates this year.

HEINY—Dale played the position of half back. The ball was carried many times into the enemy's territory through his quick-thinking and alertness. We are expecting much from him in the next two years.

JOHNS—This was Millard's first year on the squad. He had a habit of hitting at the right places and hitting hard. He is a Senior and will be missed much next year.

Football Squad

This years' football team was greatly handicapped by Anderson's suspension from the I. H. S. A. A. Practice was not begun until late in the fall and Coach Chadd was new to A. H. S. As the Indians could not compete with Indiana high schools, they had to look to such institutions as Howe and Culver Academies, for games.

In the initial contest with Howe our gridiron warriors played the enemy to a stand still, only to be vanquished 13-6. Next came a defeat which was quite excusable: 25-0 at the hands of the Butler Freshmen. A tragedy occurred on the shores of Maxinkuckee, where the little suspecting Indians were ambushed by the Cadets from Culver—C. M. A. 56; A. H. S., 0. This was the last scheduled game of the season, but Howe was invaded once more with a team of underclassmen only to be repulsed 25-0.

To close the season the Seniors defeated the underclassmen 13-0, so everybody felt much better (except 16,666 underclassmen).

The prospects for next year are much brighter, as many veterans are returning, and Mr. Chadd will have his system running in high.

Basketball Squad

The '33-'34 edition of the Indian hardwood squad hung up one of the most successful records in recent years, winning 16 out of 19 scheduled. The losses were to such teams as Franklin College's varsity; Eliot, New Jersey, Prep (New Jersey State Champions) and our old rival, Newcastle, previously our victim. High spots in the program were a 15-14 victory over Muncie in the Bearcats' lair; the 24-22 triumph over Jeffersonville; and a win over Jeff of Lafayette—conqueror of Logansport's State Champion Berries. For the first time in three years Anderson won its sectional tourney. Although hard pressed by Markleville's Arabians in the semi-finals, they won a Regional berth. In the finals of the regional they were defeated by the powerful Tech (Indianapolis) crew—runner up in the State Tourney. Tech got an early lead that was too large for the Indians to overcome though they fought valiantly.

Although beset by difficulties, this year's team truly came through in real Indian fashion.

Anderson 28—Newcastle 18; Anderson 24—Jeffersonville 22; Anderson 8—Newcastle 24; Anderson 24—Jefferson (Lafayette) 21; Anderson 15—Muncie 14; Anderson 21—Alexandria 9; Anderson 24—Bedford 22; Anderson 27—Masonic Home (Franklin) 26; Anderson 34—Connersville 28.

HARTLY—Charles played at forward position and his offensive ability was of great value to the team. Charles is a Junior and probably will be on the first five next year.

VAN METER—Murro played at center position and did a good job of getting the tipoff. His height also proved to be a great help at pivot position. This is Murro's last year on the squad.

CROSLEY—Floyd, through his scoring ability under the basket, proved to be a great help to the team. We are sorry that this is his last year on the squad.

MORGAN—Bob was a consistent player and a hard worker. He played at guard and did his share of the work in stopping the opponents.

CLUTCH—Bob seems to have a natural ability for handling and passing the ball. He played forward and helped at pivot position. This is Bob's third year on the squad and he still has one more year to play.

JONES—This was Marvin's first year on the team, and he has proved to be a great ball player. He was especially good on his long shots and dribbling. Marvin graduates this year.

PARKER—Ike held the guard position and excelled in bringing the ball up the floor. When Ike drove under the basket the opposing players found him hard to stop. This is his last year on the squad and he will be greatly missed next season.

JACKSON—Bill is only a Sophomore, but he succeeded in becoming a regular forward on the first team. Much will depend upon Bill in the next two years.

For Lambert

LAMBERT—Although Keith didn't see much action with the first ten, he was valuable to the team as a reserve. Keith has one more year to play and should be one of the mainstays next season.

POORE—Norman, through steady playing and hard fighting, gained the regular back guard position. He showed exceptionally good ability in guarding the pivot men on the opposing teams. He graduates this year.

FALKER—Isom was the tallest boy on the squad and a very valuable player. He was especially valuable around and under the basket. Isom's position at center will be hard to fill, as he graduates this year.

BAKER—Richard is a fast and clever forward. He was small but he made up for it in quickness. He is only a Junior and much will be expected from him next year.

Freshman Basketball

As usual, Coach Bonge came out with a strong Freshman hardwood squad. Although the boys did not get much actual experience, they proved that they were really ball-players in the few contests in which they participated. The frosh are a big, fast, and angry group of basket ballers; when they were in Junior High, they twice went to the finals of the State Junior High Tourney. When they grow up to be Indian Braves perhaps they will not only go to the State Tourney, but will win it. They wound up the season with a smashing triumph over the A.H.S. faculty, many of whom were varsity men in their college days.

For years Coach Carl Bonge has been turning out top-notch freshmen squads which have ranked with the best in the State and we wish him all of the luck in the world for the success of future yearling quintets.

HILL--This is Wielden's third year on the squad and he has done much toward the success of the team. He did good work in the 440 and 220. Wieldon graduates this year.

CROKE—John did well in the high hurdles and the 440. This is his first year on the team and he has proved to us that he is a very reliable man. He will be with us one more year.

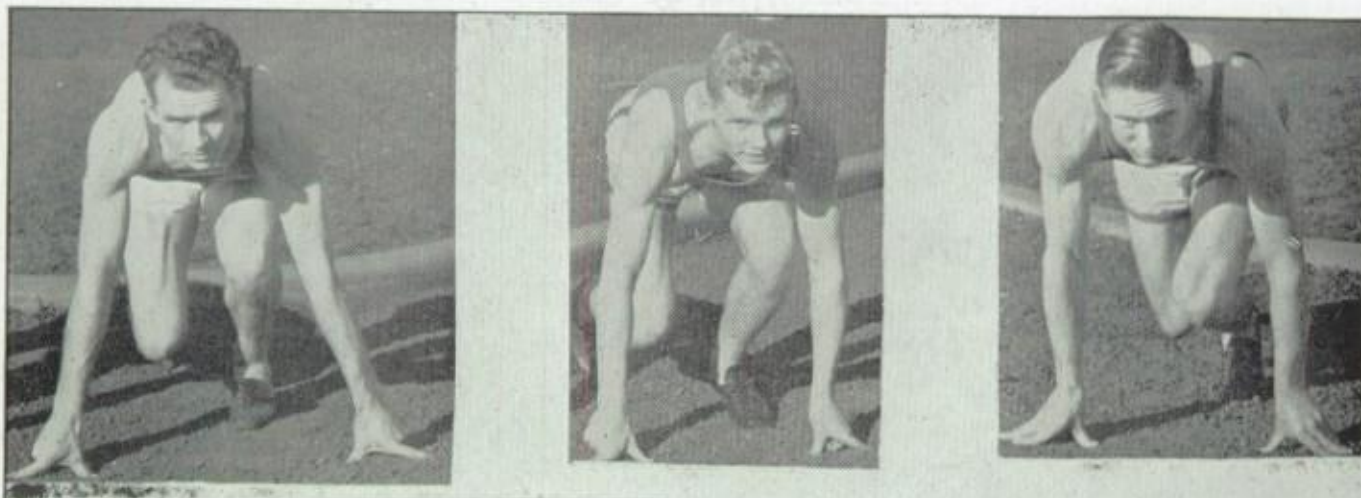

MEADOR—Ottwell is one of our Freshmen who showed up well in the mile run. He is expected to capture a record in his next three years.

PARKER—Ike runs in almost any event in which he is needed and succeeds in winning many of them. His efforts in the low hurdles and the 100 yard dash have added many points for our team. He graduates this year.

FALKER—Isom is the tall boy who puts the shot, high jumps, and runs in the relays. He has been a great help to the team and will be missed as this is his last year on the squad.

CROSLEY—Floyd was of value to the team in the high hurdles. He has worked hard from start to finish. This is Floyd's last year on the squad.

FOX—Bob starred in the 440 and the relays. Due to injuries during the first of the season he was not able to compete during the latter part. This is Bob's third and last year on the squad.

CLARK—Charles has made a good showing in his Freshman and Sophomore years and much will be expected from him in his next two years. His work in the half-mile and 440 was greatly beneficial to the team.

O'NEIL—Bill ran both the 100 and 220 dashes with much success. He has also won honors in broad jumping. Bill has been on the team for two years and still has one more season to serve A. H. S.

McMAHAN—This is Tom's first year on the team but he has shown a lot of speed in the half mile. Tom is only a Sophomore and he should be a great help to the team in the next two years.

WOODWARD—Ed is a Sophomore and has made a good showing in the relays. Much will be expected from him in his Junior and Senior years.

FISHER—Dan is another one of our Sophomore men. He featured in the relay. He has two more years to help the A. H. S.

HARMESON—Don has received honors in the 440 and the mile relay. He has been a hard worker and a consistent point-getter. Don will be greatly missed as he graduates this year.

Track

Coach Nims' track squad had one of its best seasons in years. Led by Ike Parker and Bill O'Neill, the Indians have some of the best runners in the State although they are fairly weak in the field events. The Nims men won all three of the dual meets in which they participated, including one with our old friends, the Muncie Bearcats. They made a good showing at the Gary invitational meet, Kokomo relays, Big Ten, and sectional meet, as several men and both relay teams have qualified for the Indianapolis event. Many of the local thinly-clads are under-classmen which gives promise for another strong team next year.

Gary Invitational Meet—5th Place

State Indoor Meet—8th Place

Kokomo Relays—12th Place

Big Ten Meet—3rd Place

Sectional Meet—2nd Place

Dual Meets

Anderson 79, Southport 34, Alexandria 2

Anderson 48, Muncie 43, Newcastle 8

Anderson 64 1-3, Fairmount 38 2-3, Noblesville 8,
Jonesboro 4

Baseball

"Punk" Fletcher

For the first time A. H. S. is to have a baseball team. As the boys have had no previous experience in high school baseball we have no idea what the result will be, but they showed up well in their first two games. Winning from Pendleton 9 to 7, and from Tipton 13 to 3, the Indians showed plenty of power. The boys are not exactly new to baseball and neither is the coach. Most of the Indians have played Legion ball in the summer, while Coach Chadd coached several successful teams at Canton, Illinois, besides starring on the diamond at Butler University. It is our hope that baseball will be continued at the local school in the future, as several Big League baseball stars have come from Anderson, and who knows but what there is a future Babe Ruth in the Sophomore class.

A feat worthy of special mention was the conquering of the strong Alexandria team by a score of 11 to 8. This was the Indians fourth game and the Tigers' first defeat in their eleven games.

Golf

This year's golf team had the disadvantage of not having a single member who had previous experience in inter-high school golf. After a week of tryouts Coach Cullipher selected Catlin Whitehead, Myron Gilmore, Ralph Stum, and Murro Van Meter, Jr., as regulars, and Robert Martin and Robert Thompson as alternates. In the first meet the untried Indians held the strong Richmond golfers to a 6 1-2 to 5 1-2 victory. In as much as Richmond had the great advantage of playing on their own course, the local team's showing was regarded as very favorable. The Red and Green made a disastrous trip to Muncie where they were repulsed by the undefeated Bearcat golfers 11 to 1. As the Anderson team has a few more matches remaining, we expect them to break into the victory column and to avenge the Muncie defeat when the Purple and White play here. Coach Cullipher loses Whitehead and Van Meter by graduation this year.

Physical Education

At times during the school year you may have heard, while attending various classes, strange sounds emanating from that region in the lower part of Senior High School wherein is situated the "Old Gym." Occasionally may be heard a piercing shriek of two, accenting every other sentence uttered by the teacher in charge of the classroom. These queer noises serve as excellent proof of the riotous fun derived from participating in a fair, clean game of kickball, basketball, or baseball, one of which is played daily by the girls' gym classes under the supervision of two estimable directors—Mrs. Eloise Hilligoss and Miss Barbara Jewett.

Physical development as a means of building character has been recognized by the teachers of the Athletic Department this year toward elevating Physical Education to a pinnacle where it will remain as an indispensable element in the creation of healthful living habits.

CLASS PROPHECY

Getting off the train at Anderson
To wait on the one to South Bend
I decided that I would look around
As I had an hour to spend.

On the corner was a barber shop
I went in as a dime I would save
And who should the barber be
But Dick Birdwell? The knave!

He began to tell me all the news
Of my friends of Thirty-four
As I hadn't been near for twenty years
I hadn't heard it before.

"You remember Everett Gaunt?
Our president and a good lad.
Now he's the best politician
That Anderson ever has had.

"Mary Hoppes is an actress in New York
She makes money by the chunks
And George Claypool went along
To take care of her steamer trunks.

"Paul Bransford, against expectations of all,
Is a crooner on the radio
And Catlin Whitehead is out west
Roping steers in the rodeo.

"Ida Marie Seimers is an opera star
And Harry Dowman is a clown
In Barnum and Bailey's circus
Which last Tuesday came to town.

"Jack Braddock's a well-known debater
Leroy Smith, as a doctor, gives many a cure
And Marvin Jones runs a beauty parlor
Where all girls go—of that I'm sure.

"Mary Wiley married a duke from England
Her home is one of Chesterfield's
Where Murro VanMeter coaches the team
With his assistant, Bartram Shields.

"Gene F. Shell and Betty Webb are owners
Of a pet shop up on Main
And Bob Maley just sailed away
With his good ship "Hulse" again.

"Thurman Rinker works uptown
As floor walker in the ten cent store
And Edmond Quear enjoyed married life
Until Jean Helvie showed him the door.

"Albert Uremovich's dreams were fulfilled
He drives a truck for the East Side Dairy
And Burt Dick is a dancing teacher
On his next recital—my daughter's a fairy.

"George Sharpe keeps our streets so clean
You can almost see your face
And Waneta Anderson is a waitress
Down on the corner in Jim Ritter's place.

"Bayne Burton works in the bakery
He looks like "knighthood in flour,"
And Sally Jewett is an aviatrix,
She flew to Paris last week in an hour.

"Bob Renner and George Bagley are partners
In that cafe where they make good spaghetti
And Jean Sines writes "Advice to the Lovelorn"
In a newspaper in Cincinnati.

"Jack Records turns on the lights
Every evening at the stores uptown
And Nila and Mila are dancers
At a club run by Juanita Brown.

"Rosemary McGuire and Carol Fishback are clerks
In a Department store owned by George Hughes
And George Albright is a reporter
Who sure brings in the news.

"The rest have wandered here and there
We've gotten lost, somehow, along the way
But you meet them now and then
As if they're never here to stay."

But now, my hour was nearly spent
If I didn't hurry I'd miss my train
So to Dick I bid a hurried goodbye
With a promise to come back again.

I reached the station in time for the train
All the while heaving many sighs
And when at last I was on my way,
Well—wouldn't you have tears in your eyes?

JERRY VAN NESS — BY — CARL JOHNSON

"The Marriage of Nannette"

January 17 and 18, 1934

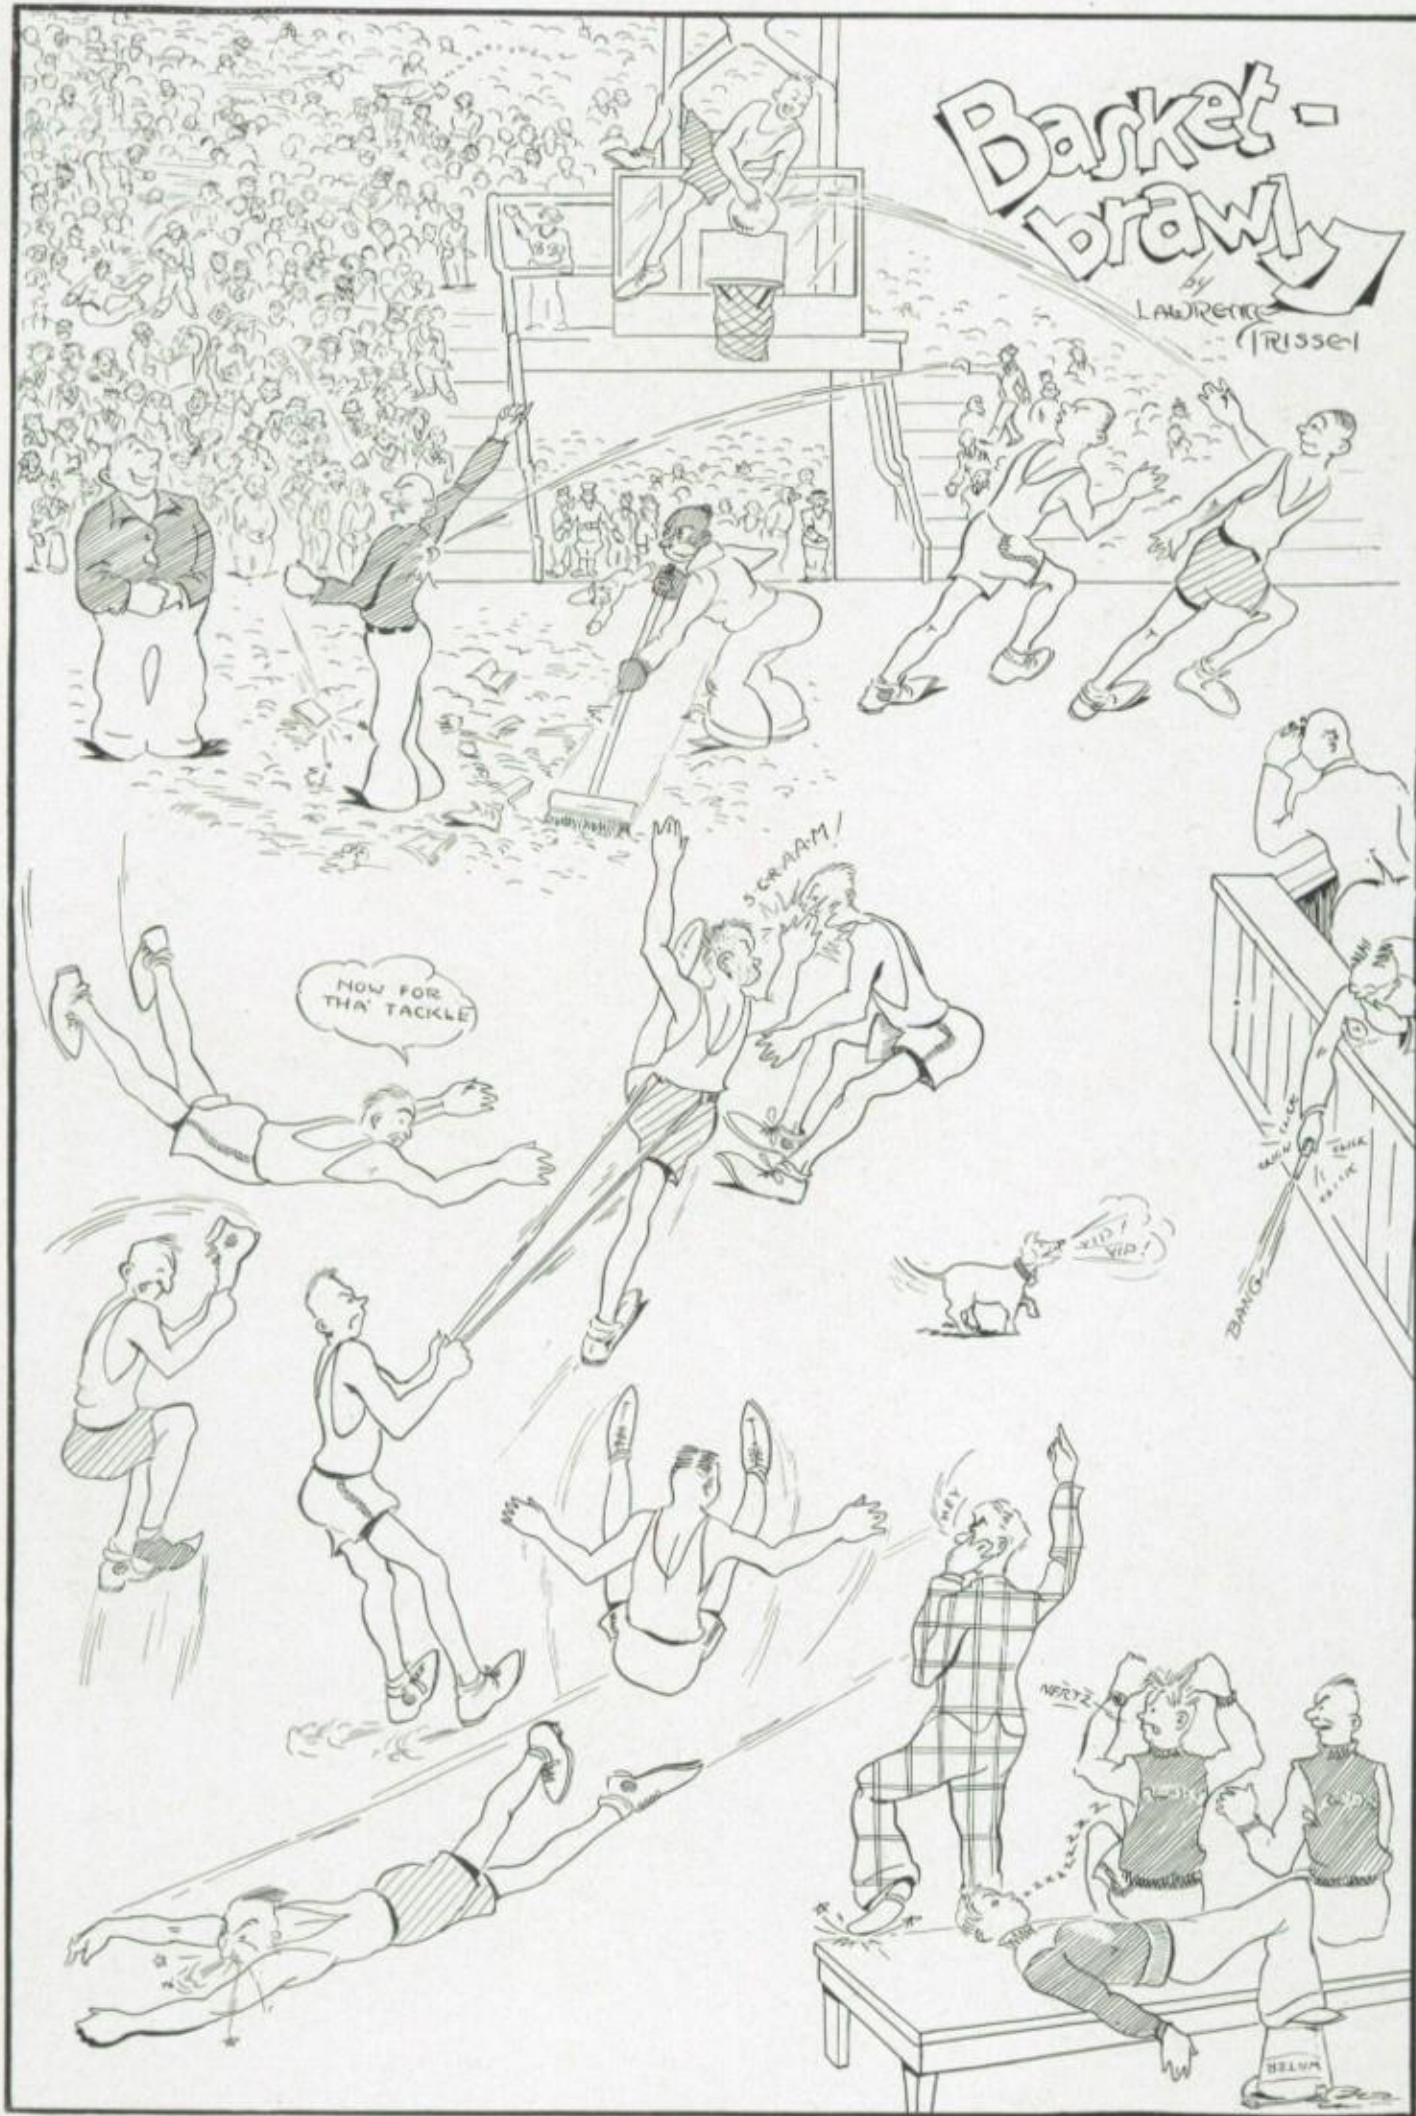

As a child
I looked up.
As a youth
I look down.
May that I shall look
Straight ahead when
I am grown.
And may that my Eyes shall see
Far distant into worlds
As yet
Unconquered, yet
Conquerable.
Much brawn I lack.
Yet mind and
Muscle coordinate
To give unyielding strength.
May that I be
One like that.
May I grasp
And so retain that which I grasp.
Inexperienced now.
But may I meet
Life's endowments together
With the broken
Illusions I am sure
To face, eventually;
And make one
Equalize the other.
Oh, make them not
Too great for me to bear
I am strong
Now Keep me this way.
Guide me. Help me.
And I am sure to be
One among fellow beings.

Jokes by J. SINES

What's the matter with that scale anyhow? Ah, alas an' alack, 'tis that fatal pound of blubber Sally, yes, 'tis. (An orchid to you, Sally, your heart is as big as your frame).

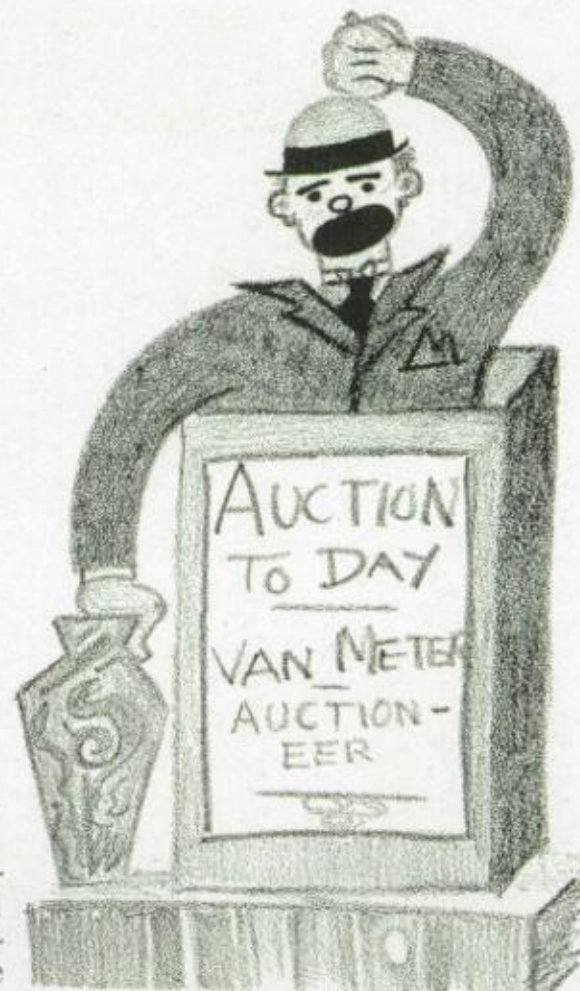

That thing painting the fence ain't King Kong, it's Merlin Mitchell giving vent to his artist soul. Yowsah!

It looks and sounds like the thunderin' herd but it ain't, it's Broncho Clute cruising down the field at the Rose Bowl game (1975), an' believe us you, Clute's good for a touch-down any day. (almost).

Did I hear $4.00 for this crummy lookin' vase? Why, man, you must have holes in your head! It's a stick-up at 59c—going—going—gone and Murro Van Meter has sold the modernistic spittoon to the gent in the bushy eyebrows.

Look at them candy sleeves! It's the Prince of Appeal, the yaller-headed adonis of the hall, George Claypool. Your problem is to guess whether the literature is a date book or "How to read meters in 3 easy lessons."

Mah goodness! 'Tis none other than leather lunged, liver lipped, Bob Maley. At last he's found a way to commercialize on his voice.

The form so gracelessly draped over the Bell Telephone System is that belonging to "Speed" Albright. (Sufficient?)

Sergeant Jack Braddock, strong of arm and flat of foot, is indeed a protector of women, children, men, fruit, and vegetables. Kindly protect the fruit with your eyes instead of your hands, Jack.

Down with Capitalists! Down with elevators! Down with Balloons! Down with everything! Whitehead for White Wing, fearless and unsophisticated, I'll clean up your city.

Youse have guessed it again, it's wee Willie Graham carrying on for deah ole "Purnell Graham" in the footsteps of his illustrious ancestors. (Wee Willie is in the wagon not in front of it.)

Jeanie is (genius) 1-10 inspiration and 9-10 perspiration. The inane lookin' yokel underneath the iron hat is Al, and the cute lil' thing which is workin' is Miss Sines (me). Ye illustration predicts us workin' on a collitch annual, maybe, huh?

The quaint little fella with the face like a nightmare is that, smashing, dashing, flashing, second Winchell, Bayne Burton. He's working on a big "daily" now, Derby and all.
